This course is designed to provide an opportunity to practice the "Tandem Turn", often referred to as "a secret weapon for distance work". The opportunity is in the sequence from #2 to #5. Some notes about how to train this:

With your dog to the left, you should arrive at jump#3 at the same time as the dog. Signal a left turn and step in behind the dog sending her over jump #4 and onwards to the A-frame. When dog has reached the A-frame, Next, you turn 90 degrees to the left and signal the dog to turn left onto the A-frame. Your path should be parallel with the A-frame and a good distance away from the A-frame.

To perform an actual Tandem Turn, start the run far out enough laterally to allow you to do the maneuver entirely on the right side of jumps #2 and #3. Essentially, do everything as described above but shifted about 10 feet to the right.

Note that the square markers starting at #12 provide an alternative path for those who might want to try being on the opposite side of a dog walk (as compared to the dog)
